

An audit committee of four members, all non-executive and a majority independent, is chaired by an independent director who is not the board chair.

Before approving the financial statements the board received declarations from the chief executive officer and chief financial officer that the records are properly maintained.

A measurable objective for gender diversity is stated and progress against it is reported for the period, with 42 per cent female representation achieved.

A remuneration committee of three members, a majority independent, operates under a disclosed charter. Policies for non-executive and executive director remuneration are separately disclosed.

Security holders may elect to receive communications electronically. All substantive resolutions at the 2025 annual general meeting were decided by a poll.