

The board charter sets out the respective roles and responsibilities of the board, the chair and management. It is publicly available on our website and was reviewed in March 2026.

A nomination committee of four directors, three of whom are independent, operates under a disclosed charter. The names of directors considered independent are disclosed with their length of service.

The chair is an independent director and is not the chief executive officer. Independence is assessed annually against stated criteria and reported to shareholders.

A whistleblower policy is disclosed and material incidents are reported to the board. An anti-bribery and corruption policy is published alongside it.

A written policy for complying with continuous disclosure obligations is disclosed and was reviewed in 2026. The board receives copies of all material market announcements promptly

The risk management framework is reviewed at least annually and that review occurred in February 2026. An internal audit function reports directly to the audit committee.
